Youth Shot Trying To Escape Officers

CONDITION IS SERIOUS; TWO OTHERS HELD

Three Columbus Colored Men Suspected as Automobile Thieves.

BOY IN HOSPITAL HERE

Morrow County Officials Make Arrests After Chase Near Cardington.

Disregard for a deputy sheriff's command to stop today led a 16 year old colored youth to City hospital here where he is in a critical condition with a bullet wound in his side. Two companions are being held in the Morrow county jail at Mt. Gilead.

Carol Van Meter alias Jack Fleming 183 Harrison st Columbus is the injured youth. Robert Bell 161 East 6ist st and John Rogers both 16 of Columbus were his companions.

Shot Once As Warning

Van Meter was shot by Deputy Sheriff L. H. Durham of Morrow county when he failed to obey an order to stop. Bell and Rogers failed to show any resistance when encountered by the deputy while Van Meter is said to have jumped a fence and started running. Durham fired into the ground in an effort to frighten the youth. It failed and a second shot hit Van Meter in the side.

Van Meter was operated on at the hospital this afternoon. Surgeons said that although his condition is critical he has a chance to recover.

The three youths were being hunted as suspected automobile thieves. They abandoned their car near Cardington at noon today and the marshal there notified the Morrow county sheriff. The boys entered a woods and Durham followed the highway. When the youths again appeared on the highway they were sighted by the deputy sheriff and ordered to stop. Bell and Rogers did not show any resistance on being arrested.

Say They Stole Car

The two youths when interviewed in Morrow county jail said that they had stolen the car, a Hudson touring, from a junk yard in Cleveland at 3 o'clock this morning. They maintained that motor trouble caused them to drive slow and eventually abandon the car. They refused to state where they were going.

Van Meter was the name given the injured youth at City hospital while his companions said his name was Jack Fleming. He was brought to the hospital here in a Cardington ambulance.

May Be Fugitive Trio

Police late this afternoon were checking a report that the three youths may be fugitives from the Boys Industrial school who escaped Tuesday night.

Miss Baker was assaulted and then murdered in a lonely road near Arlington national cemetery on Friday night. The next day her body was found stuffed into a culvert and her automobile was discovered streaked with blood half a mile away.

VILLAGES LOSE AS CITIES SHOW GAIN

Census Expected To Show Continuance of Population Movement Away From Towns.

That the villages in the territory surrounding Marion county are getting smaller and the cities larger as expected will be found when the 1930 federal census enumeration is completed, according to reports available from the new census figures.

Such a situation obtained in 1920 when the last federal census was conducted and the same trend is expected to be shown in the 1930 statistics.

Complete extinction for the American village is predicted by students of population movements who base their prediction on the census figures of the last several decades.

Population Declines

Thirty one of the 47 villages in Marion and six surrounding counties showed a decrease in population in 1920 from the 1910 figure while only 10 made any notable increase, six others practically holding their own. These figures are revealed in the book Ohio Statistics published by the secretary of state.

While the villages were losing out or barely holding their own, the six cities in the district showed an increase in 1920 over the 1910. In practically every case the larger cities

LONE BURGLAR ENTERS STORE

Moskin's Credit Clothing Co. Is Looted by Thief Who Cuts Hole in Floor.

A thief today is probably surveying an elaborate Easter wardrobe and R. W. Herman is trying to forget an unpleasant "first impression" of Marion following a burglary of the Moskin's Credit Clothing Store on West Center st last night.

Herman arrived in Marion yesterday to become manager of the recently opened clothing store. Last night a lone burglar appropriated approximately a dozen suits and several pairs of women's silk hose and underwear.

Although evidences point that the burglar was an amateur his entrance to the store was gained in a strategic manner. After forcing his way into the basement of the building he gained access to the store proper by cutting a hole in the floor.

A checkup of the missing property and the value of the stolen goods had not been made this morning. Missing suits were apparently of one size.

Apparently no effort was made to obtain money.

Police authorities were working on possible clues today in an effort to apprehend the burglar who is believed to be a local man. Tracks left on the floor lead police to believe that only one person entered the store room.

May Finish Committee Work on Tariff Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON April 17—Having agreed to place hides leathers and shoes on the protective list and to increase the duties on leather gloves of all descriptions, the Congressional tariff bill conferees went to work today with prospects of completing adjustment of differences over all rates except those reserved for votes in the house.

Only seven rate disputes had been passed over for future decision when the conference groups took up the last half of the sundries schedule, the final rate section of the Hawley Smoot measure before the free list.

KILL EAGLES FROM PLANE

By The Associated Press

EL PASO April 17—Nine eagles have been killed at Marfa by an El Paso police marksman hunting in a plane with a pilot. The birds were carrying away a dozen sheep daily and easily got out of range of gunners on the ground. In the air they paid no attention to the plane till it was 10 feet or so from them. It took eight hours to destroy the flock.

Machine Will Pilot Plane

Big Bombing Craft To Make Flight Without Human Guide

By The Associated Press

SACRAMENTO, Cal, April 17—A big bombing plane is scheduled to leave Mather field here tonight and without the guidance of human hands fly to San Francisco, circle the city and return as an experiment to determine the value of automatic pilots under conditions simulating warfare.

The experiment was designed as one of the phases of the annual maneuvers of the army air corps here.

Army fliers will be at the controls when the ship leaves the ground but once in the air the 18 000-pound craft will be turned over to an odd looking machine which will serve as the pilot.

When the plane arrives over San Francisco Major Knerr is to touch a button marked "L" and the automatic pilot will turn the plane left to retrace its course. Another button marked "R" turns the ship right.

The automatic pilot controls a servo motor which in turn operates cables to ailerons, rudders and stabilizers sending the ship up, down and around.

RIVALS LINKED TO BRING END TO WARFARE

"Bugs" Moran and "Scarface Al" Factions Said To Have Signed Agreement

CELEBRATION IS STAGED

Greater Power and Profits Aim of Union, Other Gangs Still Independent.

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO April 17—A union of Chicago's warring gangs under the single leadership of Al (Scarface) Capone was understood today to have been effected.

The amalgamation of the Capone and George (Bugs) Moran factions heretofore at odds with each other over liquor gambling and vice traffic has for its reported purposes:

The ending of gang gunnery which has been responsible for hundreds of deaths in Chicago during recent years, and

The coordinating of all major gang enterprises for purposes of increased power and profits.

The peace agreement was reported by the Herald and Examiner as having been secretly signed following conferences at Capone headquarters at Twenty Second st and Michigan av.

Celebration Held

Last night the agreement binding members of several warring groups into one large gang was celebrated at numerous places where the more prominent gang members congregate. The Herald and Examiner said these parties were attended by lesser lights of both the Capone and Moran gangs with Capone men in the majority. The Moran celebration of the ratification is planned for a later date.

Although the amalgamation brings under one leadership the most important gang men of Chicago it is not entirely representative. Neither William (Klondike) O'Donnel nor Ralph Sheldon each mentioned frequently in west side gang affairs is included in the gang union. The theory of Capone and Moran men however was reported as being that the new organization because of its greater power would be able to crush out any lesser group that might arise to challenge it.

Under the old scheme of things as police often have outlined the city has been divided by the gangs for the gambling liquor and vice privileges. The Loop for example is generally understood to be under the control of the Capone gang so far as liquor and gambling are concerned.

Loop speakeasies are compelled to

ONE SMALLPOX CASE REMAINS IN COUNTY

Report Made This Morning Prevents District From Being Entirely Clear From Disease.

Smallpox which has held Marion city and county in its grip for more than a year was at its lowest ebb today. Only one case, that of H. Selanders, Prospect, remains. He was quarantined this morning by Dr. N. Sifritt, district health commissioner.

Release from quarantine of four members of the Harry Oyer family, 136 ... av, by Dr. Sifritt later cleared the records of the last smallpox case reported in the city.

287 Cases Reported

City and county health office records today revealed that at least 287 persons in the city and county had suffered from the disease since March 1929. None of the cases was fatal.

Due to the extreme mildness of the cases prevalent during the last year dozens of cases were never reported to authorities, Dr. Sifritt said.

Nearly 9,000 persons were vaccinated through combined efforts of the city and county health offices in an effort to check the spread of the disease, records of Dr. Sifritt and Dr. W. J. Weaser, former city health commissioner, revealed today.

Smallpox threatened to reach epi-

LINDY'S WIFE TO AID IN FLIGHT

Colonel Says Mrs. Lindbergh Will Accompany Him in Altitude Trip

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES April 17—Mrs Charles A Lindbergh will actively assist her husband in the couple's contemplated non-stop experimental high altitude transcontinental air trip to New York.

While preparing for the flight expected to begin within a few days, Colonel Lindbergh said that his wife would be his navigating assistant.

"If we encounter storm areas at high altitudes" Colonel Lindbergh said "we plan to continue by celestial navigation. We are equipped for that with an aviation sextant. Mrs Lindbergh will make the observations.

Prospective Altitudes

Our speed at high altitudes will be computed from the drift indicator on the plane. We will seek altitudes anywhere from 10 000 to 20 000 feet to test the possibilities of high air currents for commercial passenger flights."

Free balloon tests of high altitude wind currents are being made daily, the colonel said, by T. A. T.—Maddux Air Lines and government weather and radio stations at scattered points along the route. Reports of these tests will be compiled just before the flight in an effort to assist in locating the fastest high current of air.

Colonel Lindbergh said he wished to emphasize that the flight is not planned for a speed record but chiefly to aid transport flying. He pointed out that conclusions of lasting benefit could not be made from one flight and that the first experiment is to be made because he believes that fast express and passenger planes will make increasing use in the future of altitudes above 10 000 feet.

Will Test Equipment

The flight also is designed to test a new supercharger necessary equipment for planes flying at higher altitudes.

No definite date has been set for the start on the trip.

The one stop for fueling and weather reports will be made at Wichita Kas.

GIRL FOUND GUILTY IN EXTORTION CASE

Jury Returns Verdict Against Miss Edwards After Long Deliberation.

NEW YORK April 17—After 19 and a half hours of bitter haggling a jury today found Olga Bide Edwards café rose dancing girl guilty of extorting money from Nathan L. Amster millionaire. A recommendation of mercy accompanied the verdict.

Miss Edwards faces from three to seven years in prison. Sentence will be imposed next week by General Sessions Judge Rosalsky.

Olga took the verdict, a surprise to most observers, standing up quietly.

As she was led through the wire-hedged corridor to a prison cell she told International News Service with a smile:

"I still have my head up."

The defendant claimed that Amster was the father of her six year old son. Lee Amster, well known traction magnate, denied this charge and declared his only interest in the girl over a period of 18 years was that of "an amateur philanthropist."

The case went to the jury at 4 0 p m yesterday.

Officials Declare War on Rubbish and Unsightly Spots on Highways

VILLAGES TO COOPERATE

Health Commissioner Names Committee Aids Following General Meeting

War against filth, rubbish and eyesore spots of the city and county will be declared here Monday. A 10-day campaign which will encompass the entire county will then get under way with Dr. N. Sifritt, district health commissioner, as commander in chief.

Plans for a relentless drive against unsightly and unsanitary conditions were laid yesterday in a council of war in which Mayor J. Don Jones' cleanup committee set the dates for city officials, including authorities of generalissimo.

Villages To Cooperate

With cooperation of city and county the campaign and elected Dr. Sifritt, practically every village in the county assured. Dr. Sifritt was appointing the aides today.

Five major committees for the city drive had been named this morning, and Dr. Sifritt was preparing to organize village mayors, councils and township trustees in every corner of the county to perfect his army.

Men without work will be given an opportunity to enlist as buck privates, when the employment committee named by Dr. Sifritt completes its plans this week. Officials believe the work entailed in the cleanup drive will partially relieve the local employment situation.

Cooperation of county officials was promised by County Surveyor Cecil Leavens in the meeting of the cleanup committee yesterday afternoon. Leavens said the county highways would be canvassed and all rubbish and refuse along the roads would be collected and hauled away.

Organizations Interested

Spirit of the cleanup campaign will be carried to virtually every organization in the city by committeemen and women attending yesterday's meeting. Schools, churches, lodges and other organizations will boost the drive, their representatives promised yesterday.

Frank Glosser, Ralph K. Ruppert, C. J. Zachman, Mrs. Catherine Donnig Smith and Rev. F. Radebaugh are members of the executive committee named by Dr. Sifritt this morning.

Other committees are as follows: Employment committee, Fred Scherff, Wilbur H. Symes, C. M. Tobin; publicity committee—Mrs. Grover Snyder, Supt. George A. Bowman, Rev. J. J. MONROE Mich April 17—Residents and owners of lake front property between here and Toledo greeted with jubilation a veering of the wind early today that caused flood waters of Lake Erie to recede.

By dawn a drop of three or four inches had been recorded. When the flood was at its height, many sections were inundated to a depth of four feet, making the flood the worst of its kind in years.

The worst damage was experienced in the section between Bolles Harbor, Mich., and Point Place, a resort near Toledo.

Preventive, Possible Cure Discovered for Dread Diseases, Ohio Scientist Reports

PHILADELPHIA April 17 — Dr. Weston A. In some cases he said he had cured cases of these diseases by the introduction of the vitamin in capsule form, or in less advanced stages by changing the patient's diet to include quantities of spring butter containing a higher percentage of the curative element. ...student loan funds, the re... ...uated, have yielded nearly ...cent interest, all told. While ...ncipal of the original sums ...ly has been preserved but increased, the interest from these funds made available to worthy students has amounted to approximately $15,000.

Two Principal Gifts

The two principal gifts to the university for such purposes, originally amounting to $50,000, were given "to assist worthy and needy students." Nothing was said about the students who were helped repaying the amounts after their graduations.

But graduates and former students of the university, who were aided by such sums, have voluntarily returned about $10,000 to the university which has been used to increase the principal. The voluntary action, the report pointed out, has made it possible to help a greater number of promising students.

In 1905 J. McLain Smith, of Dayton, left his entire estate to the university for a loan fund. Originally $25,192.51, this fund now amounts to $29,712.12. Four years later Robert P. Scott, of Cadiz, gave $25,000 for a similar purpose which has now grown to $30,704.66. The classes of 1915 and 1916 established another loan fund amounting to $1,920.40. The income from which is available to help worthy students.

A year ago Miss Marietta Comly, of Washington, D. C., gave $1,000 to found the Sarah J. Comly Coleman Student Aid Fund in memory of her sister. Alumnae associations and other organizations from time to time have contributed other funds, the principal of which as well as interest, is for loan purposes. These have amounted to approximately $4,000.

In 1926 the university reorganized the funds so that loans made from them will eventually be returned to swell and thus enlarge the aid possible for such funds. On the present basis loans are made to deserving students at four percent interest, which begins after graduation. Repayment of the principal begins two years after the student leaves the university.

Loans are made on the recommendation of a committee consisting of George W. Eckelberry, assistant to President Rightmire, Dean of Men, J. A. Park and Dean of Women Esther Allen Gaw.

C. & O. DETECTIVES HAVE HIGH RECORD

Reduce Freight Claims from $97,000 in 1919 to $9,000 Last Year Report Shows.

The efficiency of the detective force of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad is demonstrated by the unusually high record of arrests and convictions for various infractions of the rules of the roads during the past year. Officers of the lines have arrested 2,670 alleged offenders and have failed to convict but six of them for the offenses of which they were charged.

The effects of their work is easily noticeable when the lowering of the claims against the company for loss of goods in transit is shown. Freight claims against them have decreased from $97,000 in 1919, to approximately $9,000 in 1929. With the exception of the freight claim suits and in transit goods lost by the company there was but one suit filed against them. It resulted in a verdict of $175 against the lines.

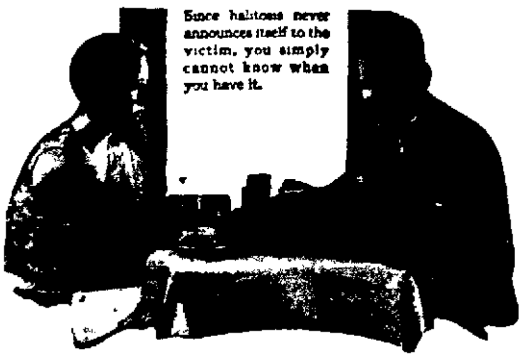
Don't fool yourself!



Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Husbands and wives should be careful

To meet anyone with halitosis (bad breath) even occasionally is bad enough, but to be married to one is indeed a trial. When this condition is present no wonder husbands are less considerate——wives less tender.

Don't fool yourself that you never have halitosis. Since it does not announce itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it. Unknowingly, you may offend.

Why take the chance at all? Simply use full strength Listerine every day. Then, if you have halitosis, Listerine ends it. If you haven't—your mouth has had the benefit of a thorough antiseptic cleaning.

Being an active germicide capable of killing 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, full strength Listerine checks mouth fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then it gets rid of the odors themselves; it is an instant deodorant. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Goodyear offers a new heavy duty Balloon

A BEAU BRUMMELL for Looks

A HUSKY for Wear!

Here's a new tire by Goodyear for the heavy car, the fast driver, the tough and rocky road—for any service that's arduous in the extreme!

It steps apart from other Heavy Duty balloons not only by its greater strength and improved construction, but also by its strikingly handsome appearance.

It's a big, stout, massively proportioned tire, armored with an extra-thick and extra-safe All-Weather Tread, and around its sleek black side-wall runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

New and original is the way in which the outer rows of All-Weather blocks are faceted down into the side-wall, a touch as smart as anything in modern sculpture.

You may be willing to pay a little more for a tire which gives you extra immunity against puncture, extra protection against blowout, extra mileage even in hard continuous service.

If you feel that way about it, go see the nearest Goodyear Dealer, and have him change over your car's tire equipment to these new Goodyear Heavy Duty balloons today!

Daily Proverb— Fortune wearies with carrying one and the same man always

President Hoover engaged in a [illegible] experimentation this morning. At least we were told that he was all set to sample at breakfast the first crate of cantaloupes picked in California this season which was sent to him by air express

The announcement of the census people that American villages are shrinking can hardly be held a startling, not at least to those who have motored away from home to any extent in recent years. To them village shrinkage has been decidedly manifest

The Baltimore pastor who told a Washington gathering that there was no more justification for being a chaplain in the army or navy than there is for being a chaplain in a speakeasy, should be pitied rather than criticized. Sad cases such as his can develop in the ministry just the same as in any other walk of life

Congressman Tinkham, of Massachusetts, wants to know what the Anti Saloon league did with the $67 000 000 he charges it used "to put prohibition over." Why George, haven't you answered your own question? Didn't it use it to make the country dry?

The seventy seven story Chrysler building in New York the 1 048 foot height of which exceeds that of the Eiffel tower in Paris by forty six feet has been completed and opened to the public and thus New York City boasts the highest structure in the world, a distinction which the French capital long ago found very profitable by reason of its visitor-attracting power

Premier Mussolini sees Rome with a population of 2 000 000 in 1940 which reminds us how a one time local enthusiast, some eighteen or nineteen years ago "saw" this city with a population of 50 000 in 1920 and we are easily a few thousands short of that population here in 1940

France has finally funded her war debt to the United States by delivering to this government French treasury gold bonds of a face value of $4 025 000 000. How much better it would have been for both countries had this been done in time to obviate possibility of the controversy which aroused in each country unfriendly comment on the course of the other Government Cold; People Friendly.

So many utterances unfriendly to the United States have been made by a radical element of the Argentine press and cabled up here, that it is alike pleasing and refreshing to know that they do not reflect the attitude of the people of Argentina toward our government and our people

In a recent issue La Prensa a leading paper of Buenos Aires, published a long editorial in criticism of the government's failure to send an ambassador to Washington, holding the government's attitude incomprehensible either here or there and one likely to prejudice the friendly relations which have been cultivated with the United States "ever since that northern republic recognized the independence of the United Provinces of the River Plate

Wealthy and cultured Argentinians as well as the most humble citizens La Prensa goes on to say are in constant contact with the progress of the United States in all its phases and nothing exists that could interfere with the continuance of the relations between the two peoples

The Argentine government [illegible] maintains its disp[illegible] at [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] diplomacy [illegible] political characterizes the pres[ent] poli[cy] [illegible] a policy, of the Argentine foreign office

After referring rather sarcastically to President Irigoyen's rad[illegible] with President Hoover La Prensa says

"The Argentine president [illegible] position as director of the [illegible] of a great American nation [illegible] the duty of defending the principle of equality and mutual respect among all the nations of the earth. The best way to comply with this mission is to cultivate their friendship and to exercise through regular diplomatic channels that legitimate influence which Argentina can bring to play in favor of the noble causes of international justice and right"

An exceptionally pleasing phase of the situation is that despite the seeming unfriendliness of the Argentine foreign office, commerce between the two countries is increasing. American capital is flowing into Argentina. The people of Argentina are buying all sorts of American merchandise and business and professional men, newspapermen and educators are voyaging back and forth continually spreading good will.

The President and the World Court.

Considering the number of motives offered as having been the impelling [illegible] President Hoover [illegible] the [illegible] of the World court in his address before the Daughters of the American Revolution, it is a little strange that there has been rather general failure to consider the possibility that the real one was a profound [illegible] of that this country should enter the court

The editorial tendency has been to hold the presidential utterance of Monday night as one of political expediency, a tendency no doubt in large part due to the fact that it so closely followed the Illinois Republican senatorial primary in which Mrs Ruth Hanna McCormick whose chief preachment was in opposition to entrance into the World court so overwhelmingly defeated Senator Charles S Deneen who favored entrance. The very general editorial view is that the president spoke as he did to aid senators friendly to the court who seek nominations in primaries to be held this year to succeed themselves. Possibly there is merit in this view but it must not be taken for granted

That President Hoover should at any time champion the entrance of this country into the court should occasion no surprise. It has long been known that he favored entrance, that he held that this country owed it as a duty to the cause of world peace to put the force of its influence in behalf of a peaceful settlement of controversies of a justiciable character in an international court rather than by resort to arms. If our memory serves us correctly, this was known before his election and yet he received the greatest popular vote ever given a presidential candidate and achieved one of the largest pluralities. And this might be taken to indicate that there may have been some other factor aside from the World court issue which had its effect in the sweeping victory of Mrs McCormick out in Illinois

Be the facts what they may in this regard, it must be conceded that the president has long favored American participation in the World court in which respect, as he pointed out in his Washington address, he has followed in the footsteps of every president and every secretary of state since the organization of the court. As he put it, Monday night

Such a court the World court—has been established at The Hague with the aid of American jurists. It has been accepted by ninety per cent of the civilized people of the earth. It is established and no other court is practicable

It has demonstrated the highest integrity and capacity, and the continuance of these qualities is assured. It has already settled a great number of controversies. It is only one but an important one of the six or seven methods of securing pacific settlements, and thus a contribution to the prevention of war

Adherence to that court by the United States has been earnestly recommended by every one of our presidents and every one of our secretaries of state living since its inception. No one can challenge the patriotism of these ten men nor the ripe wisdom, which is theirs from having borne the actual burden of responsibility for our foreign relations. They have found no entanglement or limitation of the independence of the United States by safeguarded membership in it

And in all the discussion as to participation of the United States in this court there are few persons who do not agree as to the desirability and necessity of such a court as one of the additions to our methods of pacific settlements. The contention on this question rests upon the details of special stipulations under which we should join

Feeling as one must feel in paying such a tribute to a great international body why is it any more than fair to do the president the justice of believing that he spoke as he did not for political advantage other than such political advantage as might further the approach of this country to the court but for what he deemed the best interests of the country and the civilized world? It is hard to believe that even one of the president's fixity of purpose would care to go before a body generally held to be somewhat cool to our entrance into the court and speak as he spoke did he not possess an overpowering conviction that what he championed was for the best interests of our country and all mankind

The highest bid made when the Mayflower was offered for sale Tuesday was one of $60 000 by a sporting club of Easton Pennsylvania but it was rejected because of the failure of the club to enclose a certified check. Those Pennsylvanians must have gotten it into their heads that they were a foreign government and could buy from Uncle Sam on time

The socialistic plan of Senator Norris for governmental operation of Muscle Shoals has been utterly discarded by the house military affairs committee which will recommend legislation providing for the leasing of the property to a private corporation. Let us [illegible] that the house follows its committee [illegible] ering each and every attempt of the [illegible] radicals looking to the making out [illegible] of pap suckers

It [illegible] ador in Washington has [illegible] deportmen tha Anton o [illegible] Marini drafted into [illegible] visiting their one time [illegible] have been released at the same time explaining that they offered his government [illegible] that they had taken out naturalization papers here. They must have lost or mislaid their passports

The General [illegible] company and the Westinghouse people have secured control of the Radio Corporation of America by securing 6 500 000 shares of R C A common stock valued at $543 000 000 for patents and preferred stock owned by the two [illegible] corporations. It's hard for the average man to understand how one organization [illegible] was able to acquire such a value in the time which has elapsed since the development of the radio.

BY ROYAL S COPELAND, M D

Children go through many troubles before they grow to maturity. Many diseases bring misery to them. One of the worst of these is infantile paralysis or as the doctors call it, poliomyelitis

Fortunately few children are susceptible to this disease. More than three fourths of the cases are met in the first two or three years of life. It may come at any age even to grown ups but as I have said, most children are immune

It is really a terrible disease. The paralysis leaves too many of the little ones crippled for life

The attack comes without warning. The child is taken suddenly with vomiting fever headache and extreme prostration. After these acute symptoms have abated the paralysis is discovered. The damage is likely to affect the lower extremities. One leg or both may be involved. Sometimes other parts of the body are attacked

There are several types of infantile paralysis. One is of the brain type. The latter is the more common form

A child with this disease should be isolated

This is done for safety's sake even though there is doubt that it may be transmitted to others. All the body excretions including secretions from nose and mouth, should be burned

At first, in the progress of the disease there is complete paralysis and motion is not possible. After a few weeks or months the muscles grow stronger, but whatever paralysis is left after this time is apt to remain permanently. There is a withering of the limb and it grows smaller. Walking is very difficult

There are some things which are helpful in regaining muscle control. Massage electricity baths sprays and other stimulating applications are helpful in removing the effects of infantile paralysis

Many children are crippled every year by this malady. But there is always a bright spot in every picture. I was reading the other day of work being carried on by the board of education of New York City to help crippled children at home. Many of these lame children in the city are helped in a most practical and tender way by being provided with special educational facilities. When necessary they are carried to school where they are under special supervision for their physical defects and given instruction too

Even more striking is the fact that teachers are sent into the homes of the crippled where their infirmities make it impossible for them to be taken to school. More money is needed for more teachers. The public should be willing to help in this work which was taken over by the board of education after the last epidemic of poliomyelitis. At that time in New York some 500 children were left home bound by this disease. What a wonderful work this is for the crippled children of the city

It has been thought by some investigators that this disease has been carried through contaminated milk. If this be true then it behooves every parent to see that their children are provided with pure clean milk. The extra expense of the best milk may be taken from some of the luxuries if necessary but the children should have only the best milk and the best food possible. Clean milk good food clean surroundings plenty of fresh air and sunshine will help to rout the forces of disease. Every child is entitled to these.—Copyright 1930 Newspaper Feature Service Inc

Editorial Opinion

LEGALIZING SPOLIATION

Senator Frazier of North Dakota and the organizations which are supporting his constitutional amendment to outlaw war might easily claim to be astonished at their own moderation. The Frazier proposal seeks to forbid the federal government or any state territory or citizen to prepare for declare engage in or carry on war or other armed expeditions or expend funds for such purpose. It would abolish all the constitutional provisions and machinery on which the people of the United States rely for common defense. It would require submission by the nation the states and all individuals to any exactions demanded by the armed forces of other nations or by insurrectionary armed forces within our territory. It would insure subjection to any enemies, foreign or domestic

It is an obsession of many fanatic pacificists that peace tranquility and prosperity can be obtained by putting American lives property and political rights at the mercy of any organized invading body or any domestic uprising. Resistance to such attacks is to be made a crime on the part of law respecting Americans and war and conquest by other states or the lawless and rebellious here are to be immunized

Why do these curious theorists not carry their ideas to a logical conclusion? Why should an individual foreigner coming here not have the same opportunity for subjugation as an invading army? Why should we not drop for his benefit all the other means by which we maintain the common defense—control of immigration control of importations tariff duties sanitary regulations and the other things which enter into our scheme of political and economic protection? If the military defense barrier is to be razed in order to avoid clashes with the outside world these other defense barriers might as well be torn down for good measure. A constitution which forbids us to resist the foreign invader or the domestic insurgent would be incomplete if it did not deny our courts the right to interfere with an individual foreigner or rebellious citizen who took it on himself to make free with American lives property or legal safeguards

Unilateral renunciation of defense is a counsel of utopianism. It is an incentive to cupidity and crime. For a country as rich as ours it would offer to envious marauders a temptation far vaster than that once offered by the fabled riches of the Indies. If pursued sincerely it would produce anarchy here to be followed by an orgy of legalized spoliation

Those who support Mr Frazier's constitutional amendment may not realize its implications. If so however they excuse their crusading ardor only at the expense of their intelligence.—New York Herald Tribune

HAITIAN DEVELOPMENTS.

If things are what they seem on the basis of dispatches from Port au Prince the Haitian council of state is not precisely the truthful and dependable body it might be. After agreeing with the American commissioners regarding a program to be carried out the members are now showing a capricious and rather dishonorable disposition to disregard their pledge. Instead of preparing to choose Eugene T Roy [illegible] act as ad interim president in place of Borno until a general supervised election for the selection of a permanent executive can take place the members are threatening to kick over the traces and [illegible] track Roy in favor of somebody else apparently for no reason other than a childish impulse to show their independence. The situation has become so bad that Borno has decided to dissolve the council in order to check its activities

It is less surprising than regrettable that this condition has shown itself. Except for a few individuals the political ethics prevalent in Haiti are not high. For the most part they are of the sort native to Zululand or the Congo rather than the sort which provide foundation work for the establishment of [illegible] government. The [illegible] of the council [illegible] notice [illegible] the United States that [illegible] of educating the Haitians [illegible] manage their affairs [illegible] during [illegible] period [illegible] is not going to be a simple one and [illegible] be a long process. Planet "X."

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON

X is a mo[illegible] new transneptunian planet [illegible] because we lack a name. But [illegible] because X is a mathematical [illegible] of the unknown quantity [illegible] para[illegible] little is known about [illegible] celestial object beyond [illegible] heavens the approximate size and distance from the sun

As it is the ninth planet [illegible] to call no planet X but planet X

In the first flush of excitement over the discovery of the new planet at Lowell observatory it has been hastily assumed that Lowell was the only astronomer who suspected the existence of this mysterious celestial object

Half a century ago astronomers busied themselves greatly over the possible existence of such a planet. The Forbes even thought he had located such a transneptunian world and not content with this hazarded the belief that there was another still deeper in the interstellar spaces

The brilliant French astronomer Camille Flammarion in his fascinating book "Astronomie Populaire"—1879—a[illegible] gave the location of the new planet which he believed to exist in the following words: "All the periodical comets have their aphelia near the orbit of a planet. Now the third comet of 1862 and the swarm of shooting stars on August 10 follow an orbit of which the aphelion is of the distance of forty eight—namely, forty eight times the distance from the earth to the sun. There should exist there—in that neighborhood—a large planet [illegible] at 4 000 000 000 miles from the sun in a revolution of about 330 years

In addition to giving other details regarding the probable size and mean diurnal motion of the planet he actually reproduces a diagram of the solar system on which is traced the conjectured orbit of the transneptunian planet"

Thirty years ago Professor Lau from a study of the perturbations of Uranus concluded that there must exist not one but two transneptunian bodies. Both the late Professor E C Pickering of Harvard and Professor William H Pickering now engaged in astronomical work in Jamaica devoted much thought and study to this subject. The latter actually foresaw the discovery of the existence in which he believed from the results of cometary statistics of four transneptunian planets. These he believed he had actually located theoretically although none of them had been sighted. Three of these supposed planets he believed to be extremely massive and remote

Gaillot to whom Lowell was deeply indebted for details of mathematical procedure believed in the existence of two transneptunian planets. One of these he suspected was located at a distance from the sun about one and one half times the distance of Neptune. The other a larger planet he believed to be located more than twice as far from the sun as Neptune. As the distance of Neptune from the sun is 2 793 500 000 miles the former planet would be distant from the sun about 4 190 250 000—or say 4 200 000 000 miles—This agrees quite closely with the new planet discovered at Flagstaff Arizona from Lowell's calculations embodied in his classic memoir of 1915.—Copyright 1930 International Feature Service Inc

New York Day by Day.

BY O O McINTYRE.

New York Apr 17 — The native New Yorker is a study in tolerance. Annoyances which throw others into flurries of rage do not disturb him. This self-complacency is especially marked in the theater. Outlanders fume and fret when forced to stand [illegible] the seating of late arrivals

The New Yorker is not a whit perturbed [illegible] to the inconvenience gracefully. Nor does he mind the jostling and [illegible] along the streets. Those [illegible] who bestow black looks [illegible] are invariably strangers

The reason of course is obvious. New Yorkers are trained to the metropolitan hurly [illegible] push and shove and know nothing [illegible]. They do not tarry to apologize for what seems to be rudeness. Neither do they expect an apology from others. It is give and take

The Manhattanite will stand patiently in line at the box office windows at the theater and open with never a murmur. He [illegible] his turn like a good sport. This also applies to the native born who wait at the entrance ropes of cafes for tables

The visitor will snap his fingers at headwaiters, argue cajole and often go off in a huff while a metropolite is permitted [illegible] to accept things as they are. Ushers have no difficulty in herding [illegible] but fisticuffs have resulted with transients

Perhaps the outstanding example of Gotham tolerance is during the subway rush hours. In these hectic periods thousands are stepped upon yanked from under hats and manhandled by bull necked guards hired for that particular purpose

Yet there are not a dozen fist fights [illegible] in a year's time. I have seen men and women too come up out of subway kiosks with their hats smashed, buttons torn loose and otherwise disheveled and usually they are smiling. To them it was a superb lark

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Most of us from time to time are aware of what might be called a "sense of futility." We wonder if the struggle to be somebody and to get somewhere is worth while. We wonder if any human effort, no matter how arduous or enthusiastically entered into or how seemingly fine is really worth all it costs in sacrifice patience, and persistence. We are inclined to look at ourselves too closely and to wonder whether the course we are trying to pursue the program we have set up is worth the effort. Is the game worth the candle? There are so few things that matter very much. Sometimes we wonder if anything matters

But if we look back on the long road of history we see that the men and women who have made this earth a livable place who have built the structure of civilization are men and women who have been everlastingly convinced that something is worth while, some things are worth doing, no matter what the cruel cost of the effort

George Washington rich and comfortable had more to lose than any other man in the colonies when he gave up a life of ease and started to walk toward the gallows. For had the revolution with such a flimsy chance [illegible] not been a success, Washington would have been hanged

All the noble achievements in history are but the record of man's faith that there are a few things worth doing at any cost, a few things greater than life or death

Marion now has an official "key" to be used for presentation to visitors as a symbol of the community's hospitality. The first opportunity to use it came at the printers' convention and Jones had it before him at the speakers' stand when he started off the welcoming program.

The key measures about two feet in length and seemingly could not easily be overlooked. But the mayor finished his talk and left the typographical guests without means of unlocking the municipality's portals. It was a fine speech, too, and nothing else was overlooked in letting the visitors know that they could do about as they pleased without overstepping their welcome.

A few minutes after returning to his seat in the audience His Honor happened to recall the forgotten key and made arrangements with a later speaker to make the formal presentation.

SERVICE department officials would appreciate a bit of cooperation from automobile owners who are in the habit of leaving their cars parked uptown all night.

Each Saturday night, the department makes special effort to clean uptown streets, especially those on which churches are located. Often, they find cars parked along the curb, and the sweeper has to miss a part of the street which the car covers.

From 2 o'clock Sunday morning to nearly daylight finds the sweeper busy so watch your parking.

Haven't you noticed the women standing before these seed boxes filled with lovely pictures of flowers that the contents will grow? There's supposed to be some kind of magic spell cast over flower seeds planted on Good Friday, that will make them grow and blossom as planting on no other day will.

Lady Suffered For Years—Could Not Eat a Meal Without Distress—Modern Medicine Wins Triumph.

MRS. ARENA BORDEN

"Konjola proved to me that it is deserving of all the wonderful praise it is getting," said Mrs. Arena Borden, R. F. D. No. 2, Leesburg, Ohio. "A severe case of stomach trouble has been the source of constant misery to me for years. Gas pains, and bloating followed every meal, no matter what I ate. I nearly starved myself as I was afraid to eat. Naturally, I lost weight, strength and vitality, and felt miserable all the time.

"My search for relief finally led me to Konjola after many other medicines had failed to do any good. But Konjola was different. The first two bottles brought wonderful relief, and in seven weeks I looked and felt like a different person. Today, I can eat anything I want without the least distress afterward; have renewed strength and vigor, and have not felt so good in years."

It is the same splendid story of success wherever Konjola is put to the test and given sufficient time to thoroughly cleanse and stimulate the ailing organs. From six to eight bottles are recommended.

Konjola is sold in Marion, O., at Stump & Sons drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

BLAME CHURCH FOES IN MURDER

Negro Auditor of National Baptist Convention Found Slain in Indiana.

By The Associated Press

SCOTTSBURG, Ind., April 17 — Enemies within the church were blamed by authorities today for the slaying of Edward D. Pierson, Chicago negro and auditor for the National Baptist convention.

Pierson was found in the Muscatatuck river near Scottsburg, Ind., yesterday. Three fishermen heard his faint cries for help and found him feebly clinging to the [illegible] of a tree. He died soon after he was rescued. There were six bullet wounds in his body. His hands and feet were bound and two traveling bags were weighted about his neck.

Found Irregularities

Members of the family said Pierson had frequently found irregularities in accounts of the Negro churches comprising the National Baptist convention and expressed the belief that "someone was hired to kill him."

Chicago police aiding in the investigation said Pierson had been "put on the spot" and taken for a ride.

Pierson went to Nashville, Tenn., March 30 to audit the books of the convention office there. He left there Tuesday evening for Columbus, O., intending to stop first at Louisville, his secretary said.

In Nashville the secretary, Alma Overton, said the auditor carried with him a report of the Nashville office of the convention. R[illegible] Darlon, of the Tennessee attorney general's office, said Pierson had found that a loan of $62,000 to the Nashville office had been "juggled" and that he was preparing to report this to the general officers of the convention in Chicago.

On Main Highway

Scottsburg is on a main Louisville-Indianapolis highway. It is believed by Chicago police that Pierson's enemies "put him on the spot" in Louisville and then headed north in an automobile.

A man and two boys inspecting their fish lines found Pierson in the river near the highway bridge.

His brief case, in which his wife said he always carried his auditing reports, was missing. A diamond stickpin and a watch were also gone, but $50 in money was found in the auditor's pocket.

VILLAGES LOSE AS CITIES SHOW GAIN

1930 Census Expected To Show Continuance of Trend Away From Towns.

showed the greatest proportional increase.

Marion, for example, jumped from 18,232 in 1910 to 27,891 in 1920, while Bucyrus, in Crawford county, went from 8,122 to 10,425, and Findlay, in Hancock county, from 14,858 to 17,021. Kenton, in Hardin county, advanced from 7,185 to 7,690; Galion, in Crawford county, from 7,214 to 7,734, and Fostoria, in Hancock and Seneca counties, from 9,597 to 9,987.

Caledonia, in the eastern part of Marion county, is an example of the villages which showed a decline in population in the 1920 census from that of 1910. Caledonia had a population of 562 in 1910 and 492 in 1920.

While the smaller villages are showing population decreases, the smaller counties also are suffering losses due to the movement of population to the larger counties. Hardin, Morrow, Union and Wyandot counties declined in population in 1920 from the 1910 figure, while Marion, Hancock and Crawford counties showed gains, with Marion having the biggest proportional gain.

Few Increase

Villages in the district that were able to show population increases in 1920 over the 1910 figures are Alger, McGuffey and Ridgeway, in Hardin county; LaRue, Morral, Prospect and Waldo, in Marion county; Carey, Harpster and Kirby, in Wyandot county; Crestline, New Washington and North Robinson, in Crawford county; Jenera, in Hancock county; Marysville, in Union county, and Mt. Gilead, in Morrow county.

Declines were shown by Caledonia, Green Camp and Agosta, in Marion county; Ada, Dunkirk, Forest, Mt. Victory and Patterson, in Hardin county; Arcadia, Arlington, Benton Ridge, McComb, Mt. Blanchard, Mt. Cory, Van Buren and Vanlue, in Hancock county; Cardington, Chesterville, Edison, Marengo and Sparta, in Morrow county; Chatfield and Tiro, in Crawford county; Marseilles, Nevada, Sycamore, Upper Sandusky and Wharton, in Wyandot county, and Milford Center, Richwood and Unionville, in Union county.

During December an average of [illegible] cases were under quarantine in the city and 20 were quarantined in the county. The malady continued to hold its grip on both the city and county early this year but gradually abated until but one case exists today.

Efforts of Dr. Weiser and Dr. [illegible] to check the spread of smallpox enabled all city and county schools to remain open. When a case was reported in a county school all pupils were vaccinated.

Wholesale vaccination did not start until the fall term of school opened last year. During summer months comparatively few cases were on record but the advent of colder weather and mingling of school children steadily boosted the number of cases.

Radio Chaplain Gives Sermon at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Don H. Falkenberg, radio chaplain to 25,000 people daily throughout the central states when he broadcasts from WAIU, Columbus, spoke last night at Forest Lawn Presbyterian church. He is in Marion for a week conducting Passion week services at the church.

Last night was family night at the church and the Rev. Mr. Falkenberg's sermon was in keeping with the meeting. He said in his sermon:

"The great need of the present age is a united family. There is too much passing of spiritual responsibility by the parents onto their children. The father and mother will send their children to the neighborhood Sunday school while father and mother stay at home."

"Jesus Christ desires to enter into every home. We see Him standing at the door and He says, 'Behold I stand at the door and knock. If any man hear My voice and opens unto Me I will come in with him and sup with him and he with Me.'"

The Rev. Mr. Falkenberg will speak at 7:30 o'clock tonight on "Christ in the Garden."

SUSPECT POISINING IN DEATH OF PROBER

Inquest Called To Investigate Case of District Attorney's Agent.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, April 17—An inquest to determine whether Robert Bursian, district attorney's undercover agent, was poisoned to prevent his appearance before the grand jury to testify in the latest Julian Petroleum Corp. investigation or whether his death was the result of an automobile accident was called here today.

Blayney Matthews, chief investigator of the district attorney's staff, disclosed last night that a drinking glass containing poison was found in the wreckage of the automobile in which Bursian's body was found early Tuesday morning. County Autopsy Surgeon Frank Webb announced a preliminary autopsy indicated the presence of poison in his stomach.

Shortly after the body was found District Attorney Buron Fitts said the 31-year-old bookkeeper was a secret investigator for his office. He said Bursian had been working on angles of the Julian investigation and at the time of his death was on a very dangerous mission connected with an alleged bribery plot involving political and financial figures.

Not convinced that Bursian's death was entirely accidental, Fitts ordered an immediate probe of circumstances surrounding the case.

Matthews said it definitely was known who Bursian was and what he was doing shortly before his death [illegible] three of his companions are being sought for questioning.

A search also has been started for a [illegible] the investigators know he carried. The gun was not found in the wreckage of his car.

Murder Accompanies Reported Peace Pact

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 17—After weeks of comparative quiet another gang murder has been accomplished in Chicago in the accepted gang manner—speeding motorcar, machine guns and all.

The victim was Joe Blew, 30 years old, identified as a gangster, mail robber and safe blower. However, a woman who said she was his wife insisted his name was Joe Cameron and that he was a salesman who had come here recently from Tennessee. The Blew identification was made by police finger print experts.

Blew, driving a small sedan, was chased several blocks by five men in a much larger car who poured machine gun bullets into Blew's body and then sped away. The murder was committed on Blue Island av., not far from Maxwell st.

Blew recently was released from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta where he was serving a sentence for complicity in a Cincinnati, O., mail robbery in 1924. Police believed that since his release he has been engaged in the liquor racket in Chicago. At the present time two west side gangs are understood to be in dispute over "privileges of beer" distribution and it was thought Blew may have been slain in this connection.

MOTHER OF HORST BOY DISAPPOINTED

Report That Missing Son Was at Republic, O., Proves Unfounded.

ORRVILLE, April 17—Once again disappointed in her hopes of finding her long missing son, Mrs. Raymond Horst was back home today methodically going about her housework and praying that her vigil is not in vain.

The waiting wearied mother journeyed to Republic, O., a little village 10 miles east of Tiffin, yesterday on the report that a lad closely resembling the missing Melvin Horst was at the home of Mrs. Iva Weirman there.

"It isn't Melvin," Mrs. Horst murmured sadly when she saw the boy. The expression of hope on the mother's face changed to disappointment as she said the words.

Identity of the boy whom it was believed might be Melvin was established further through probate court records. He is the son of a Tiffin man and woman and was given into the custody of Mrs. Weirman shortly after his birth. Mrs. Weirman has applied for adoption of the child.

The tip that the boy at the Weirman home was Melvin came from Spencerville, O., where the boy visited several weeks last summer.

Boy, 9, Dies in Fire That Destroys Home

PAINESVILLE, O., April 17 — Nine-year-old Morris Stewart, son of Mrs. Mary Yoke of Fairport, three miles east of here, died in the Lake County Memorial hospital here today from burns which he received shortly after midnight when their home was completely destroyed by fire.

The boy was found in an unconscious condition at the foot of his bed by firemen. His night clothes had been burned from his body and he had apparently been converted into a human torch.

WARNS NOT TO PASS DANGER LINE OF SIN

Minister Says Many Persons Go Too Far Ever To Be Saved Again

"It is the business of the Holy Ghost to know whether or not we walk with Christ and if we refuse to do so we grieve the heart of the Holy Spirit," the Rev. W. Martell G[illegible] said in his revival sermon last night at Wesley M. E. church on "What Is the Sin Against the Holy Ghost."

"There is a danger line in one's life and if people pass this time it is impossible to bring them back," he continued. "Not that the Lord is not able to save them but they are [illegible] with their sins that they absolutely refuse to be saved.

"We dare not go through life's journey without the guidance of God, and if we seek to go our own way then we lose the higher realities of life."

"Repentance" will be the sermon subject tonight. Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lashey will sing a duet.

Little hope for a break in showers which have greeted Marionites nearly every day this week, is seen in weather reports today.

"Showers tonight, not so cold in extreme north; Friday cloudy with rain in north and east, colder in central and southwest sections," was the official weather outlook today.

The mercury remained almost stationary yesterday and last night, varying between a high of 58 and a low of 55 degrees. Rainfall of .27 of an inch was recorded. A year ago the high was 50, the low 34.

RADIO DEAL PROBED BY U. S. OFFICIALS

Proposed Control by Corporation Draws Attention of Justice Department.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—The department of justice is making a careful examination of the proposed acquisition of the radio manufacturing activities and facilities of the General and Westinghouse Electric companies by the Radio Corporation of America.

An announcement to this effect was issued after Senator Dill, Democrat, of Washington, who has long been interested in radio legislation, called the attention of the senate to the proposed consolidation as tending to create a new trust monopoly.

The department's announcement issued late yesterday said that it was fully advised regarding the proposed affiliation, was investigating it fully and was considerably concerned about it.

Meanwhile David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation, issued a statement in New York giving the details of the proposed consolidation. He said the authorized common radio stock would be increased from 7,500,000 shares to 17,000,000 shares, with 6,580,375 issued to General Electric and Westinghouse in return for royalties, manufacturing rights and tangible assets.

An increase in the B preferred Radio stock from 517,365 to 1,500,000 shares also is planned, he said, with a part of the increased stock being given over to Westinghouse and General Electric.

Should the offender continue his refusal a warrant will be issued for his arrest by the Cleveland court, Beery said.

Penalty for continued refusal is a fine not to exceed $500 or a jail sentence of not more than 60 days or both, Beery points out.

Work was started today in Beery's office in compiling figures of various townships and villages where enumeration has been completed.

WILL SEEK ACTION ON JUDGE PARKER

Move To Be Made Monday by Senator Overman; Protests Continue.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17 — A move for action on the nomination of Judge John J. Parker as an associate justice of the supreme court is to be made in the senate judiciary committee next Monday by Senator Overman, Democrat, of North Carolina.

Overman, who is supporting the nominee, was chairman of a sub-committee which heard the protests of organized labor and of negro organizations against the confirmation of the nomination. Judge Parker is a prominent citizen of his state but, unlike the senator, is a Republican.

The protests against Parker and President Hoover's determination to stand by his nominee have created some concern among administration leaders.

Senator Patterson, Republican, of Missouri, late yesterday announced the receipt of a telegram from B. G. Voorhees, Republican state chairman of Missouri, vigorously opposing the nominee.

Confirmation, in Voorhees' opinion, would mean that the Republican party might just as well say good-bye to Missouri for the next two or three elections at least.

WET LEAGUE HEAD HITS AT CONGRESS

Far Behind Public Sentiment on Prohibition Question, Curran Asserts.

WASHINGTON, April 17— "The people are three to one against prohibition and congress is three to one for prohibition. Congress simply hasn't caught up with public sentiment."

This estimate of the present prohibition situation was given the senate lobby committee today by Henry H. Curran, director of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, during a hectic second-day examination on the witness stand.

Curran frankly told the senators that his association aims to support and elect men who are for repeal or modification of the existing prohibition laws irrespective of party or other considerations.

On this admission the dry senators went after Curran hammer and tongs.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, who is a dry and up for re-election in a state that recently has voted wet, endeavored unsuccessfully to compel Curran to state whom the association would support this fall, but Curran said it had not been decided.

At one point Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, also dry, shouted at Curran: "You'll answer it—either the harder way or the easier."

One amusing incident developed when the senators, questioning Curran on his personal files concerning the work of the association's investigators, asked if he investigated senators themselves.

CONTINUES SERMONS DESPITE LITIGATION

Pastor Declines To Cancel Services Because of Army, Navy Chaplain Issue.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17 — The Rev. Peter Ainslie, of Baltimore, today continued his engagement to preach a series of noonday sermons at the First Congregational church here in spite of the controversy that has arisen between himself and the pastor of the church, the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, on whether ministers of the gospel are justified in serving as army chaplains.

The series of services has been conducted throughout the Lenten season by the Washington Federation of Churches. Dr. Ainslie offered to cancel his engagement but no action was taken by the federation.

The controversy was renewed last night in a letter from Dr. Pierce to Dr. Ainslie in which the Washington pastor refused to lead a movement to withdraw chaplains from the army, a step that the Baltimore clergyman had suggested. Dr. Pierce is an army chaplain and saw wartime service in that capacity.

The dispute arose from a sermon which Dr. Ainslie preached on Monday in which he said there was as much justification for having chaplains in speakeasies as in the army and navy, especially in view of the fact that war has been outlawed by the Kellogg treaty.

"When you invite me to lead in the move of withdrawing from the chaplaincy or to advocate that churches should withdraw their chaplains," Dr. Pierce wrote, "you are inviting me to be disloyal to the law of the United States with their wives and children, hospitals and guardhouse, day school and Sunday schools."

SCHOOL MAKES PLEA FOR LIBRARY BOOKS

Central Junior To Discard 125 Volumes This Year Due to Worn-Out Condition.

Central Junior High school has put forth a plea for fiction books for the school library. In the last year, 125 fiction books have been worn to the extent that they will have to be discarded this year, in a ravaged state beyond repair.

Efforts are under way through the school to secure as many suitable books as possible through the home rooms. The students have been asked to take to school all books handed them for the library.

The school is in need of good fiction suitable for junior high school pupils and of English classics. Anyone having books of these classes can call the school or get in touch with students.

SCRIPTURE: Memory Verse: "They feared as they entered into the cloud; and a voice came out of the cloud" (Luke 9:34, 35).

Read: Luke 9:28-36.

MEDITATION: The cloud was not as fearful as the disciples thought. A voice came out of it showing that God was in it. Few situations are as dark as they at first appear to be. If we enter the situation bravely we find good in it that we had not suspected, and could not see from outside. Resources come to us in hours of crisis. Peter found the iron gate open when he got to it. Dr. Gunsaulus in his early days preached a memorable sermon on the two words: "Nevertheless—afterward." What seems catastrophe may appear far otherwise in the light of subsequent events.

Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take:
The clouds ye so much dread
Are big with mercy and shall break
In blessings on your head.

* * *

PRAYER: O Thou, who lovest the strength of men and whose rewards are for the seeing eye and the path-finding spirit, inspire us to trust Thee greatly and be unafraid. In days of cloud teach us to listen for a voice that is within the cloud. Amen.

Disastrous Fire Routs Village Population

COLUMBUS, April 17—Fire early today routed out the entire village of Worthington near here, and caused damage of $12,000 after gutting a two-story brick building which was occupied by a grocery store.

It was the second serious fire which has hit the town in the past three years. In 1927 a $50,000 blaze swept a portion of the village.

Though situated in the heart of the business district, little damage was done to adjoining buildings in today's fire.

Origin of the blaze is undetermined.

"I prefer it this way," he said with a finality that sent me back meekly to my chair in the front room, where I sat tensely while Mr. Train answered ring after ring, listening patiently to the repeated assurance from the operator that she was attending to the call. Finally I heard his voice say: "Mr. Underwood? Just a second. Mrs. Graham wishes to speak to you."

I was at the threshold of the other room before he had finished speaking, and a second later heard Harry Underwood's voice saying tensely:

"Everything else will keep. How's Lil?"

"In wonderful condition, considering everything," I answered.

"Was it pretty trying?" His voice was raucous, husky. "But of course, it was. You needn't tell me. Are you sure she's all right?"

"She will be all right when she gets home to you," I said slowly, emphatically. "You are all she needs just now."

I heard his sibilant breath. "Could I talk to her?"

"She's asleep," I told him. "But—"

"No!" he exploded. "Don't disturb her for anything. But how is it you are in Kingston, and how in thunder did that black roadster chap find you?"

Stop Near the City

"I don't know, but the fact remains that he did, that he stayed at the Hasbroucks last night, that he trailed us to Kingston, where he lost us thanks to the clever work of Mr. Hasbrouck and his friend, Mr. Train, of Kingston, at whose house we now are."

"Where's the black roadster now?"

"On his way to New York, trailed by Mr. Hasbrouck's son on a motorcycle. If the boy does not telephone in an hour from now he will have been gone two hours and we shall understand that the man is nearing New York, and we shall start for the city by the west route. The man went over the ferry to the Peekskill side. What do you think we'd better do when we get near the city—say to Englewood?"

Mr. Underwood's reply was not delayed an instant.

"Stop there and telephone me again. Of course, the fellow's headed back to the hotel. I'll be on the watch for him and see what persuasive methods will do."

His voice was grim, but an instant later it mellowed into tenderness.

"Take care of Lil and give her my love," he said. "So long!"

A Story of Humorous Boyhood Adventure

By JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

TOMORROW will be Friday and I know one kid in our bunch that won't be sorry. My unkle went back to the town he came from after he had took my mother and my ant and Annabelle Lee and my grandfather for a ride yesterday. He was here to show the big new car to someone and to try to sell it. He says he is coming back with another car some of these days and take Miss Palmer for a ride and go places and do things. My mother asted him if he had a car of his own and he said he didn't need one. She said she'd bet he'd need more than a car for Miss Palmer to take him seriously, but he told her the women all fall for a car, but I don't think Miss Palmer would fall for a car if he went with it.

My ant had Annabelle Lee out on the sidewalk leading her around by the hand this morning, and Mrs. Farrel was out in front of her house trying to find room in her front yard for another rosebush, and Mrs. Farrel said, "That's a mighty sweet baby," and my ant said, "Ain't she? We just simply analyze her. She takes after her father's side." Then Mrs. Farrel said, "Oh, I wouldn't say that. It is best to look on the bright side." And my ant said, "Indeed!" and picked Anabelle Lee up and carried her in the house. I don't know what there was about that to make her mad. But she gets mad easy. I don't think Mrs. Farrel likes her very well. She is always looking out through her lace curtains right into Farrel's house, and maybe that has something to do with it. She complained to Mrs. Farrel once because Mr. Farrel et breakfast in his undershirt, and Mrs. Farrel said if my ant would let her know the next time she was peeking she would have him take it off. My ant says Mrs. Farrel is low minded.

Younis was late when we were going to school and when she came she brung my mother a big branch of the first lilacs of the season, and my mother said she had a good mind to kiss her for them, and Feeble butted in and said to let Thomas Aristides do it. Sometimes I wouldn't care what happened just so it happened to Feeble. Younis got red and so did I. Mealy has got a hat made out of the top of one of her mother's stockings and she tries to pull it down far enough behind to hide the bald spot where Nibs shaved her neck. Bunty said his father has got some black paint and if she paints the back of her head with that it will look like hair a little ways off. She said she would if I would do the painting. I told her I didn't think my father would like to have me do it. She said it wasn't his neck, but I told her I am his boy, and he is laying for a reason to straighten me out. We played marbles after school. I swallowed my best agate.

One Every Hour for Ten Hours and Relief Almost Certain

Often in Five Days, Even the Tenderness Is Gone

The fame of the little green capsule, because of its canny power to speedily stop the terrible rheumatic pains that make life almost unbearable, is rapidly spreading all over America.

You go about conquering your merciless enemy in a different way—a knock-out way. You take one tiny capsule each hour for the first ten hours.

The second day, take one every two hours for 14 hours—Then take 4 little green capsules every day until every little twinge and every bit of tenderness is gone and your troubles have ceased.

The little green capsule now so much in demand from coast to coast must have a name so it is known in every worthwhile drugstore in America as ALLENRU NUMBER 2.

Bradley's Drug Store says these little wonder working capsules must banish all pain and torture in 5 days or money cheerfully refunded.—Adv.

'Jacqueline On Her Own"

AMATIC STORY OF ACTION, ROMANCE AND ADVENTURE

BY RICHARD STARR

(Copyright 1930, by the Author)

CHAPTER 20

Wanted:

TWO graduated dia- ed them as they lay on winking up at her wicked- ously.

diamond pendant.

was no room for doubt This was the string of dia- which was stolen from the some great lady, or at least lady, on the night of the d at Circo's night club. she, Jacqueline Grey, all in- had carried the jewels away under the very noses of the police. And here they were.

What did it mean? What could it mean but one thing?

Mrs. Porter Mason had given her the fan and the little satin bag attached to it by a silken cord, and in that bag was the stolen diamonds.

Did she know the jewels were there? She must have known.

It all came back to Jacqueline with horrible distinctness. She remembered the shriek of the police whistles and the banging of the doors. Then the lights had gone out.

In the midst of the hubbub she had found Mrs. Porter Mason at her side. She heard her voice, rather strained and excited.

"Hold this a minute, dear," she had said, "while I go and see what is the matter."

Jacqueline had taken the fan, thinking nothing of the request at the time. Viewed in the light of subsequent developments she realized that the request was a ridiculous one.

Why had Mrs. Porter Mason found it necessary to relieve herself of the fan before she went to find out what was the matter? Why could she not have taken it with her?

It could mean only one thing—that Mrs. Porter Mason had taken the diamonds and had passed them to her in order that she might run the risk of getting them past the police.

Who was Mrs. Porter Mason? Was it possible that she was a practiced thief?

She saw through the miserable plot all to clearly. But that did not help her. Her position was simply appalling, and any minute now she might be haled off to the police station.

Already her description was in the papers. It was only a matter of time before the police found her. Teddy Montrose had said so.

They would find the diamonds in her possession, and what defense had she to offer?

Ignorant as she was of such things as the value of evidence, even she could see that her story would sound the most paltry invention. All she could say was that she had risked her life to get away from the night club, because she was under the impression that she would be arrested if caught there by the police, and perhaps imprisoned. As to the diamonds—they had been given to her by a friend to hold. And she could not even produce the friend.

It all sounded dreadfully weak and unconvincing.

Meanwhile, what was she to do with the diamonds? That was the most urgent question of the moment. At any minute the police might come down on her with handcuffs and things.

She was like a child lost in a wood. She was half-distracted with fear. She was in a terrible position. She longed for a chance to talk things over with Teddy. He would understand.

She was having her swift whirlwind rush into life with a capital L and it had brought her a certain amount of excitement and breathless pleasure.

It had brought her some good things—among others the friendship of Teddy Montrose. And this she felt was a very beautiful things, though it could not last for long. It could not, for instance, possibly last longer than her money lasted. When that was gone she must go also, and Teddy must know of her no more, except as a memory.

But it seemed now that things had gone entirely wrong. Now she faced arrest, disgrace, imprisonment.

There was a loud tap at the door.

The tension of her nerves was such that she almost shrieked. She made one wild grab at those wicked-looking gems winking up at her from the carpet. She had just time to snatch them up and thrust them into what she called her V, when she heard the door open.

She stood literaly petrified with fear. Her heart seemed to drop out of her body. The police! She dared not turn around.

"If you please, ma'am——"

She whirled round. It was a small boy in buttons—the page-boy with the red hair.

The sense of relief made her feel faint. But the relief did not last for long.

"If you please, ma'am there's a gentleman down below what's asking to see you. He says can he come up here because he wants to see you private?"

Her first wild thought was that it was Teddy Montrose. But she had only left Teddy about half an hour ago. Perhaps he had come back.

"Is he a very tall man with broad shoulders, fair hair cut very short, and blue eyes? A—handsome man?"

The red-headed boy grinned. "No, ma'am. He's dark and not so terrible big. He's got black eyes—sort of piercing."

Jacqueline's heart sank. "Bring him up here," she said wearily and resigned herself to the ordeal of facing a Scotland Yard detective for she was convinced it was no one else.

She did some quick thinking. In her view there was only one chance of escape. To hide the diamonds and deny everything.

Forcing herself to be cool, Jacqueline looked around for a hiding-place. She knew all about these detectives from much promiscuous reading, and a more or less regular attendance at the cinemas. And she knew that there was very little that escaped the hawk-eye. As for secreted jewels, it was uncanny the way these detectives walked straight to them as if by scent.

She had only a few seconds to make up her mind. A couple of minutes at the most before the red-headed boy would return with the hawk-eyed one.

She stood perfectly still in the middle of her pleasant sitting-room, looking slowly round. Who would have thought, a few days ago, that she would be in this delightful room, trying to hide the fruits of her innocent crime from the eager eyes of Scotland Yard? What a life! No ordinary place would do.

She thought of one hiding-place after another. The clock, the vases on the mantelpiece, the coal scuttle; under the carpet; under the mattress in her bedroom.

None of them would do. They were ordinary. A film detective would see through them in the twinkle of an eye; and surely a real detective would be much more clever.

She heard the clatter of the iron gate of the lift outside. Panic came—and then, inspiration and calmness.

She went to a rather anaemic-looking palm which stood in a pot on a pedestal. She had noticed before that it was in need of water, and had promised herself to give it some. She took the plant firmly by the stem and jerked it out.

It was thoroughly root-bound, and it came away from the pot perfectly clean, with all the earth neatly attached to it, as neglected plants frequenly will.

She dropped the string of diamonds into the bottom of the pot, replaced the plant, and pressed the earth firmly down.

She had just time to wipe her hands on her pocket handkerchief when the expected knock at the door came.

She opened it.

On the threshold stood Mr. Arthur Carew of Chicago, with the red-headed page-boy hovering respectfully in the background. He had the expression of a page-boy who has been tipped.

Would you like to try this doctor's laxative free of charge?

Every family has occasional need of a laxative, but it should be a family laxative. One that can't form a habit, but can be taken as often as needed. When the breath is bad or tongue is coated. Or appetite fails. Only a doctor knows the right ingredients. Dr. Caldwell discovered the right mixture years ago. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin combines harmless herbs and pure senna. It starts muscular action and soon corrects constipation. Gently, but surely, it relieves a bilious or sluggish condition. It is mild. Delicious. Effective. All druggists keep this famous prescription ready, in big bottles. Or write Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Monticello, Ill., for a free trial bottle postpaid.

Where Should the Funeral be Held?

THERE are three distinct places where a funeral may be held—the church, the home or the funeral director's establishment. The choice is invariably determined by personal preference. Especially designed, this type of establishment provides every convenience for the proper care of the funeral. stronomers Speculate n Newly Found Planet

, April 17.—Hardly had overy of the ninth planet ar system been announced g's leading astronomers, r the achievement, spe the possibility of life on ar in the firmament.

luded that if inhabited, must be born with to fur lined galoshes et ray machines.

to be more than 4,000,- s away from the sun— any of the eight other —the newly found as- gets about one-two thou- th sunlight and heat as rays on this ninth planet than lover's moonlight emperature is so cold that, scientific parlance, nitro- would be a solid and oxy- liquid. Nevertheless, astronomers believe life to be possible there as much as on any of the other planets.

George Van Biesbroeck, of Yerkes Observatory at Lakes Geneva here said:

"Of course we like to top with the thought that maybe on this new planet astronomers are peeting through telescopes, looking at our planet through 4,000,000,000 miles of space, just as Lowell's astronomers have succeeded in looking at theirs. But if there is any form of life on the new planet we can be sure it is totally different from that on the planet we call earth because of the extreme cold and lack of life-giving sunlight.

"And even if there is no life on the planet, it does not mean that there may not be some in the future. Compared to millions of years known to have preceded the actual formation of the earth, life on this planet of ours is relatively new.

Professor Philip Fox, formerly of Northwestern University and now director of the Adler planetarium, said he believed chances for life are much better on Mars than on the newly discovered planet.

"Mars, of all other planets, in its general characteristics, conformed most to earth."

The Stars Say--

For Thursday, April 17.

ACCORDING to the lunar transits of this day there is likely to be a state of turmoil and confusion, with the mind restless and high-pitched and the spirits volatile. The judgment will be poor in money matters, thus all speculation and hazard in this respect are to be avoided. The tendency to contention, strife, litigation and self-indulgence should be held under firm control lest all affairs be jeopardized. Well managed, there may be some constructive work launched.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year in which constructive work may be accomplished only by firm self-government and calm deliberation. The tendency to rash, tumultuous and quarrelsome conduct may jeopardize the best interests. Also the inclination to personal excesses and business speculation should be properly controlled, as all manner of chances are perilous to the finances.

A child born on this day should be clever, enterprising and resourceful, but may be the subject of self-undoing through its own impetuous, headstrong and indulgent proclivities. With early training and discipline it may have a popular and prosperous life.

Many an upright man hesitates to be so good that the neighbors resent it.

SCHOOLS CLOSE FOR EASTER VACATION

Approximately Seven Weeks Remain Before End of Terms in City Buildings.

St. Mary's Parochial school closed at noon yesterday to open Tuesday morning, in observance of Holy Week. Harding high school, the junior high schools and elementary schools will close tonight to open Tuesday morning. Friday and Monday will constitute the public school spring vacation.

In former years the public schools have had a week's spring vacation, but due to the late opening in the fall, only a two days Easter vacation will be given this spring.

With the opening of schools Tuesday, students will have approximately seven more weeks before the long awaited three months summer vacation begins.

Because of the closing of Harding High school tonight, the Harding Herald weekly school publication was issued tonight instead of Friday night, the regular release date.

RAIN STOPS FIVE BIG LEAGUE GAMES

INDIANS AND CHISOX AGAIN RAINED OUT

Two Games in National, One in American Played; Cubs Beaten 13 to 3.

BY HUGH S FULLERTON JR
Associated Press Sports Writer

OLD Mr. Weather, who has [illegible] early season [illegible] aches and a big baseball [illegible] rain [illegible] dark threat [illegible] lay [illegible] start of the next season [illegible] has [illegible] the football season.

Mr. Weather [illegible] and [illegible] off five games from yesterday's [illegible] leaving [illegible] in the National [illegible] in the American. The Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians still are trying to stage their [illegible] Chicago [illegible] fail [illegible] before the Indians have to move on.

It [illegible] National league champions, the Chicago Cubs, if the rainy area had extended as far as St. Louis. Playing their second game there, the Cubs took a 13 to 3 beating from the [illegible] Cardinals [illegible] the first [illegible] the Cardinals [illegible] 20 hits [illegible] first [illegible] one and [illegible] George Fisher, young slugger recently obtained from the New York Giants, led the parade with [illegible] hits [illegible] times at [illegible].

The other National league game gave Cincinnati an even break [illegible] two [illegible] Pirates with a 3 to 1 triumph [illegible] of [illegible] engaged in a [illegible] of [illegible] Burleigh Grimes [illegible] and came out ahead because of the fine support he received. Donohue [illegible] scattered [illegible] Critz, Ford and Kelly put a quick stop to Pirate threats by [illegible] three double plays. The Reds [illegible] a pair of their seven hits off Brame for [illegible] and Walker [illegible] third with a home run in the [illegible].

In the American league, Washington [illegible] to win two games by nosing out the Boston Red Sox 5 to 4 on the strength of [illegible] in the early innings. Sam West, the first man up, got one, then Ossie Bluege cracked out another with two on base. After the third inning Milton Gaston gave the Senators only two hits, but Bump Hadley kept the Sox in check by allowing them only six hits altogether.

WEATHER CAUSE OF SLUMP IN PROFITS

American Association President May Consider Later Start of 1931 Season.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 17—The twin elements, rain and cold weather, which staggered the American Association with postponements and subsequent financial headaches last season, are back at it again and there is no small amount of worrying in the box offices around the circuit.

After a haphazard respite in favor of the inaugurals Tuesday, they washed or froze out all but one of the four games scheduled for yesterday. Today they threaten to do likewise, piling up more bargain day double headers and trimming profits which the loop needs so badly this year to make up for 1929's shortcomings.

President Thomas J. Hickey hasn't spoken in favor of making a later start next season, but has intimated such a move may be considered if better weather isn't forthcoming soon.

TENNIS FAVORITES LOSE IN TOURNEY

Five Ranking Stars Eliminated by Virtual Unknowns; Are Davis Cup Prospects.

By The Associated Press

PINEHURST, N. C., April 17—Tennis experts hereabouts are viewing with amazement the way favored contenders for the Davis cup team selection are being bumped off. Two of them hit the skids in yesterday's quarter finals of the North and South tournament after three had been eliminated in Tuesday's matches.

Yesterday's casualties were George Lott, who campaigned against the French for Uncle Sam's net glory last year and who is given a fourth place ranking, and John Van Ryn, also a member of last year's Davis cup team, given fifth ranking.

Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J., youth, showed Lott how tennis should be played and Berkeley Bell, Texas collegian, gave Van Ryn his lesson. Bell is rated ninth, Mangin tenth.

Lott and Van Ryn follow Francis T. Hunter, number 2 in the national ratings, Fritz Mercur, number six, and Wilmer Allison, number seven, also rans. Only Johnny Doeg, the California giant, number three position, remains of the six ranking players who started.

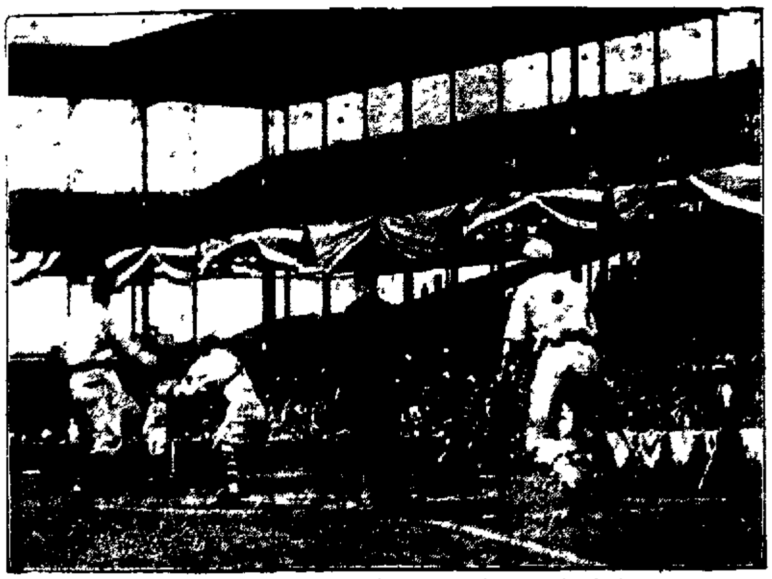
Redlegs Win To Even Series With Pittsburgh Pirates

HORNSBY FAILS TO TOUCH HOME



Rogers Hornsby pulled the first 'bone play' of the 1930 baseball season when he forgot to touch home plate in the opening game of the Chicago Cubs with the St Louis Cardinals. Hornsby is shown here racing in to the plate only to be tagged by Catcher Jim Wilson. The champions barely managed to win the game 9 to 8. Quigley is the umpire.

ON THE INSIDE

With

I see by the papers

THAT two southern sprinters are going to be favored to beat George Simpson, the Ohio State flash, in the 100 yard dash in the Penn relays if they continue to show such speed as they have thus far this spring. They have been consistently running it in 9 (6)—We wonder what they call speed down there? Simpson has been running it in less than that ever since he graduated from knee pants.

That Al Simmons signed a contract reported to call for something like $35 000 for the season's work in the left garden of the Athletics and then proceeded to bang a homer over the fence in his first time at bat. Perhaps Mr Cornelius McGillicuddy wishes that he could sign up a new left fielder just before each game if that's the effect it has on them.

THAT a Marietta college pitcher yielded 14 bases on balls and an even dozen hits in the course of nine innings with Ohio University. And still they call him a pitcher!

That the deadly crab hold of Clete Kauffman is to be barred in Lima, Ohio wrestling rings. It seems that he applied it far too vigorously on Chief War Eagle—Yes, the one who K O ed McCarty here last Friday—to suit the tastes of the boxing commission of that city. Keep it up, you'll make a gentleman's game out of it yet.

THAT Babe Ruth is tempted not to count his home runs for this season if he makes less than 50. It's funny what $80 000 a year will do for a man, isn't it?—And besides he won't need to count them. Does he think Jake Ruppert won't have an accurate record of what he is getting for those 80 000 iron men?

Marble Tournament

Marion boys should begin practice for the city marble tournament which is to be run off in connection with Boy's week here between May third and tenth. The Berry Kette trophy awarded to the winner of the tourney is now held by the Oakland Heights school. We'll tell you more about it on the sport page later on but for the present we suggest that the knuckle artists open spring training immediately so they will be in trim for the opening event. Some one is going to be lucky and win a cup for their school. Will Oakland Heights retain possession of it for another year or will it grace the trophy case of some other city school?

Track Meet on Card

A TRACK meet will open the annual boy's week. This should attract a large number of would-be future champions from the city schools. All that is necessary to enter is to choose a team captain and have him report at the Y. M. C. A. soon. The winning combination will be given the handsome Watters Powers trophy for a year. The award was won last year by Greenwood school. They are counting on keeping it in their school building for another year if the enthusiasm of the boys means anything. Vernon Heights also seems to have the idea that they will be the ones to look at it for the next year, so most anything may happen.

ALL-STARS OPEN SEASON

Marion All-Star [illegible] baseball team will play its first game of the season Monday, April [illegible], at the Central diamond against the Neal Tigers. The starting lineup for the All Stars will be R. Putnam, catcher; R. Roffin, shortstop; [illegible] Kalenger, first base; [illegible] Roffin, third base; C. Anderson, second base; [illegible] Rookle, [illegible] field; [illegible] Messenger, left field, and N. Putnam [illegible]. Henry G[illegible] more will do the [illegible].

It isn't the green[illegible] by any means. Many very ordinary men are.

Indians May Lose One of Inaugural Games

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 17—Cleveland's Indians face the dreary prospect of performing only one inaugural baseball game this season instead of the customary two, while the St Louis Browns may get an extra one.

Rain has postponed the scheduled opener between the Indians and White Sox at Comiskey park two days. If it interferes again today as threatened, the Indians will depart for Detroit and turn over the opening day festivities to the Browns, who start a three-game series here Friday.

The Tigers have played their opener so Cleveland would have left only its home town inaugural against the White Sox April 22.

Harry Gill Back To Coach Illini Teams

By The Associated Press

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 17—Harry Gill, who has coached University of Illinois track teams to 11 outdoor and eight indoor Big Ten track championships since 1911, just can't stay away from the cinder paths.

Although granted a year's leave of absence last fall, the veteran coach is back on the Illini campus months ahead of time and talking track. Last night he watched the Illini taper off before heading for the Kansas relays.

He refused to accompany the [illegible] however and [illegible] to golf [illegible] coaching school opens June 16.

FISHBAUGH - GRIP TO HEADLINE CARD OF MAT ATTRACTIONS

Feature Match Promises To Be Rough and Fast, Two 30 Minute Semi-Finals.

MOST anything is apt to happen Friday night when Charlie Grip and Les Fishbaugh tangle legs and arms in the Criswell mat show. Neither of the gentlemen have a reputation for being particularly considerate when they get into the ring. Fishbaugh has been pleasing the fans of Marion in his recent bouts [illegible] with his bone crushing [illegible] and general rough stuff. He will not want for opposition when he takes on Grip, for Charlie is another man who doesn't care about fouling a [illegible] once he is inside the rope.

There will be no preliminary match this week. Instead there will be two 30 minute limit bouts. One will bring together Claude Swindell and Bob Kessler, both lightweights. Swindell is a former referee of these parts but he has never taken part in a bout here except as the third man. He is now claiming the lightweight championship.

Hugh Bell of Delaware will make his first fight with a pro of standing when he takes on Dan Copen in the second semi final of the card. He has shown promise of developing into a good wrestler although he has not had very much experience. Copen comes here with a lot of publicity concerning former bouts. If he is as good as he is touted to be the match should give the fans more than they paid for. All in all it looks like a much better than average card.

Promoter Criswell announces that he is attempting to match Clete Kauffman and Joe Banaski for a final match to head the card of April 25. Banaski has been yelling for a bout with Kauffman for some time. He was given a semi final shot at him in the local ring last week but he will not be satisfied until he can take him on for three falls to a finish.

Sweden Wants Winning Fighter for Olympics

By The Associated Press

KENOSHA, Wis., April 17—Sweden wants a winner in the welterweight division for the 1932 Olympic bouts and is out for one.

Karl Ogren, Kenosha schoolboy who won the welterweight crown in the recent New York-Chicago golden gloves contests, has been offered a good paying job and all expenses paid by a Swedish newspaper if he will go there and represent that country in the Olympics.

He is a native of Sweden.

Pete Donohue Goes Route for Cincinnati; Double Plays Stop Threatened Rally.

By the Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 17—The Reds evened the series at one each with the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday by taking a 3 to 1 decision in a drizzling rain. Curt Walker weighed in with a home run into the right field bleachers in the seventh inning with none on to clinch the victory.

Pete Donohue, the first Red pitcher to go the nine inning route this season, was given excellent support. He tired [illegible] the end of the encounter but the Ford-Critz-Kelly double play combination brought him through with flying colors.

The Pirates scored their lone tally after two were out in the ninth when [illegible] Sithe, the Pirates new first sacker from the coast, slammed a double into right center. Hemsley put him [illegible] with a sizzling two-bagger to left.

The Reds did not treat the offerings of Brame brutally but succeeded in [illegible] blows in the fourth [illegible] fifth to count once in each inning.

Donohue looked today to be [illegible] form that made him one of the [illegible] in the circuit a few years back. [illegible] had almost perfect control and [illegible] a more effective change of pace [illegible] he has set at any time in three [illegible]. Ford, Critz and Kelly came [illegible] however, no less than three [illegible]

Illinois Athletic Board Retracts Ultimatum to Sammy Mandell.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 17 — With a slight blush of embarrassment the Illinois State Athletic commission has shelved its order demanding that Sammy Mandell defend his lightweight championship against King Tut, Minneapolis challenger, or [illegible] his good standing in the National Boxing Association.

No sooner had the order been issued than Mandell's friends hurried to the commission with newspaper clippings that the champion recently had signed to defend his crown against Al Singer in July. Then sponsors of the Singer-Mandell match clinched the argument by displaying the signed contracts.

So the order was rescinded and Mandell was advised to forget it.

Louisville Takes Lead in Association Race

LOUISVILLE, April 17—Louisville today had shunted into the first place of the American Association flag race by reason of its victory over Milwaukee 5 to 4 yesterday afternoon while the remainder of the outfits in the Association were forced into idleness because of rain.

Milwaukee for exactly the same reason dropped into the cellar. Neither the Colonels victory nor the "beer city" boys defeat is anything to become unduly excited over however.

Louisville has won two games, Columbus, Toledo and Indianapolis each one while the second division [illegible] one loss chalked up against St Paul, Minneapolis and Kansas City. The rear is brought up by Milwaukee with two defeats.

It looks like a hospital ward but they're getting better, Lotshaw chirped.

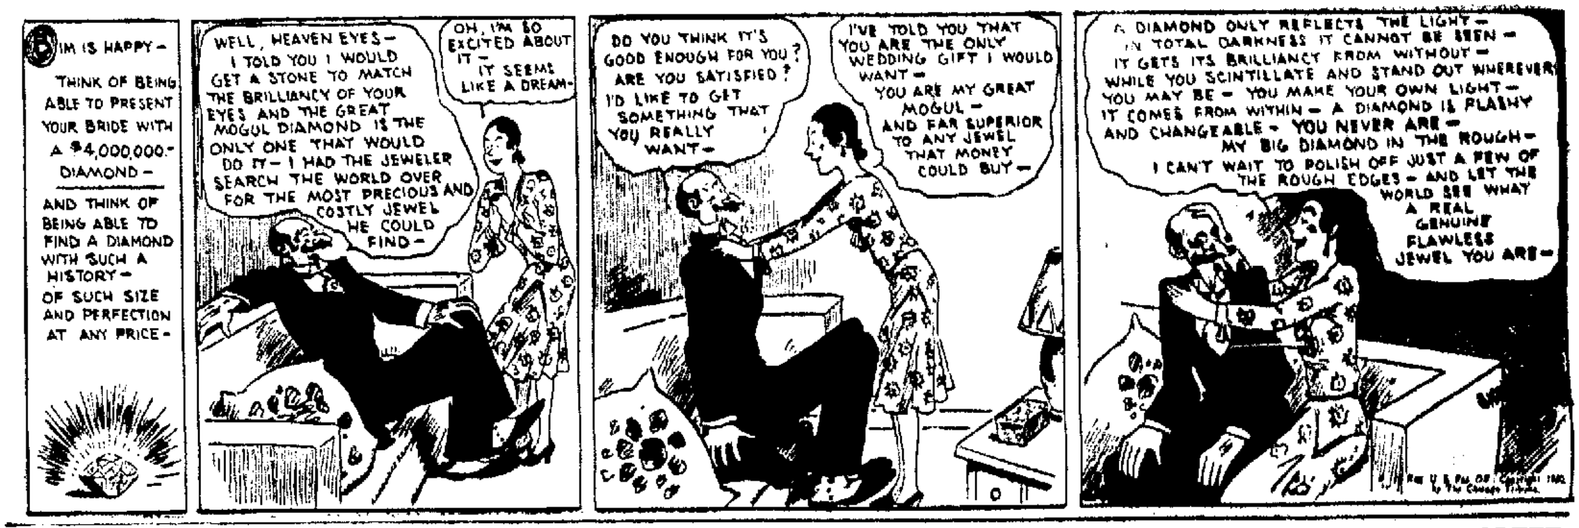
BY SIDNEY SMITH



BIM IS HAPPY - THINK OF BEING ABLE TO PRESENT YOUR BRIDE WITH A $4,000,000- DIAMOND - AND THINK OF BEING ABLE TO FIND A DIAMOND WITH SUCH A HISTORY - OF SUCH SIZE AND PERFECTION AT ANY PRICE -
WELL, HEAVEN EYES - I TOLD YOU I WOULD GET A STONE TO MATCH THE BRILLIANCY OF YOUR EYES AND THE GREAT MOGUL DIAMOND IS THE ONLY ONE THAT WOULD DO IT - I HAD THE JEWELER SEARCH THE WORLD OVER FOR THE MOST PRECIOUS AND COSTLY JEWEL HE COULD FIND -
OH, I'M SO EXCITED ABOUT IT - IT SEEMS LIKE A DREAM -
DO YOU THINK IT'S GOOD ENOUGH FOR YOU? ARE YOU SATISFIED? I'D LIKE TO GET SOMETHING THAT YOU REALLY WANT -
I'VE TOLD YOU THAT YOU ARE THE ONLY WEDDING GIFT I WOULD WANT - YOU ARE MY GREAT MOGUL - AND FAR SUPERIOR TO ANY JEWEL THAT MONEY COULD BUY -
A DIAMOND ONLY REFLECTS THE LIGHT - IN TOTAL DARKNESS IT CANNOT BE SEEN - IT GETS ITS BRILLIANCY FROM WITHOUT - WHILE YOU SCINTILLATE AND STAND OUT WHEREVER YOU MAY BE - YOU MAKE YOUR OWN LIGHT - IT COMES FROM WITHIN - A DIAMOND IS FLASHY AND CHANGEABLE - YOU NEVER ARE - MY BIG DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH - I CAN'T WAIT TO POLISH OFF JUST A FEW OF THE ROUGH EDGES - AND LET THE WORLD SEE WHAT A REAL GENUINE FLAWLESS JEWEL YOU ARE -

COLUMBUS, April 17—Police early today seized a large still, 1,500 gallons of liquor and large quantities of supplies for liquor manufacture in a raid on a mansion just off East Broad st. in the residential section.

The 10-room house was deserted when police arrived. A trunk containing women's clothing sent here from Cleveland was the only clew held by authorities as to the identity of the still operators. No arrests were made.

MRS. HOOVER HURT

Suffering from Wrenched Back Resulting from Fall at Home.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—Mrs. Hoover is suffering from a wrenched back which, although painful, is described by Captain Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, as not at all serious.

She received the injury, he said, in a fall yesterday in her living room, and explained that it was for this reason that she reclined upon a couch when she received the Children of the American Revolution late in the day.

Mrs. Hoover had been suffering from a cold for several days, but this, Dr. Boone said, was much improved.

RAINS IN WEST LOWER PRICES

Prospects Loom For Better Crop; Strong Opening Is Overcome.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 17—Wheat prices underwent a material setback today after a show of firmness at the start. Reports of new rainfalls in the Southwest, including western Kansas, had a bearish effect, despite estimates that 2,000,000 acres of wheat in Kansas have not yet received rain. Starting unchanged to 3-8 higher, wheat afterward dropped below yesterday's finish. Corn and oats weakened also, with corn opening 1-4 off to 1-4 up, and subsequently showing a general sag. Provisions tended upward.

Although wheat started firmer owing to a million-bushel purchase by one broker, general selling increased quickly, and the market soon headed downgrade. Adding to the bearish influence of reported fresh rainfalls Southwest was word that in parts of Kansas the moisture supply had been greater this season than last year. Norton, Kans., reported 1.91 inches of rain last night, making 3.88 inches since Jan. 1, against 2.05 inches during the same period of 1929.

Announcement that export purchases of North American wheat yesterday totaled 2,000,000 bushels failed to act as a counterbalance for moisture advices. Meanwhile, today's export business appeared relatively small, and Liverpool dispatches were at hand telling of heavy selling there on orders from this side of the Atlantic. The Liverpool market at the finish showed but little response to yesterday's upturn here.

Report Boston Resident Kidnaped in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, April 17—Leonard B. Cassidy of Boston was reported today to have been kidnaped by Mexican workmen at El Hule, state of Oaxaca.

According to information received here, Cassidy incurred the enmity of the workmen by discharging a number of laborers in his employ.

Cassidy was taken into the mountains. Federal authorities were notified of the incident and troops immediately were sent in pursuit of the kidnapers.

El Hule is the center of Mexico's rapidly-growing banana trade. Cassidy, who is said to be a British citizen domiciled in Chicago, had authority over a large number of fruit laborers.

RAINS IN WEST LOWER PRICES

Prospects Loom For Better Crop. Strong Opening Is Overcome.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO April 17—Wheat prices underwent a material setback today after a show of firmness at the start. Reports of new rainfalls in the Southwest including western Kansas had a bearish effect despite estimates that 2,000,000 acres of wheat in Kansas have not yet received rain. Starting unchanged to ⅜ higher wheat afterward dropped below yesterday's finish. Corn and oats weakened also with corn opening 1/4 [illegible] 1/4 up and subsequently showing a general sag. Provisions tended upward.

Although wheat started firmer owing to a mild purchase by one broker general selling increased quickly and the market soon headed downgrade. Adding to the bearish influence of reported fresh rainfalls southwest was word that in parts of Kansas the moisture supply [illegible] [illegible] greater this season than last year. North [illegible] Kansas reported 1.01 [illegible] from last night making [illegible] since Jan 1 against 2.65 inches during the same period of 1929.

Announcement that export purchases of North American wheat yesterday totaled 2,000,000 bushels failed to act as a counterbalance for more rain advices. Meanwhile today's export business appeared relatively small and Liverpool dispatches were at hand telling of heavy selling there on orders from this side of the Atlantic. The Liverpool market at the [illegible] showed but little response to yesterday's [illegible] here.
